We provide underprivileged Rajasthan women and girls with as well as training vocational and social skills, to support them in developing confidence and self-esteem, and help them work towards financial independence.

We help these women break their cycle of poverty and financial dependence on family members, by teaching them valuable practical skills. RSKS gives them a voice and a support network to nurture their hopes and ambitions, which allows them the freedom to work towards an individual dream, a priceless gift in their oppressive social and economic situation.

Aims and objectives of the RSKS

The objects for which the Society is created are to provide relief to the people of urban and rural areas, poor, education, medical relief, and any other objects of Socio-economic benefit of the people and advancement of any other object of general public utility not involving carrying on any business activity and for such purpose.

All mankind indiscriminate on the basis of caste, color, creed religion, sex or language shall be the Beneficiaries of the organization.

The primary of the Rajasthan Samghar Kalyan Sansthan is to promote self esteem, economic, independence and the development of a skill set and social skills as a means of combating the traditionally enforced subordination of women within Rajasthani society. Many women have little or no access to education, basic health services, or even the right to negotiate their own relationships with the men of their family. These women need a voice, a support network for their hopes, dreams, and ambitions.
